p 2 Do not have him explain his reason for giving up apartment. Let Simpson bring out his perfectly good explanation.

See whether his diary contains a sufficient number of entries of fish caught to bear out statements, or whether this particular one is the only one.

See if he has diaries for 1923,4,5,6.

p 6 He says "Most likely the next day, remembering that I had been down at Mack's &c" Simpson will infer he wrote up diary from memory on other occasions.

p 8 Keep for redirect his explanation of having made the statement to Capt Walsh about being alone.

p 20 See if the diary shows catch of Arthur Applegate's bass. If so; this would be one of the little things that delight juries and seem so very convincing to them.

p 26 When did he first learn the Wilsons were going the next day?
